

Saving Data

meets the threshold. Once it does, data such as the acceleration experienced by the user, which helmet was hit and when the collision occurred.

Alerting Staff

The data saved is then sent to the appropriate staff via an alert in either a mobile device visual/audio cue

Value Comparison

The threshold is obtained from our analysis by testing the collision of the helmet against different materials